Have you noticed our new logo? This has been produced in collaboration with one of our parents who is a graphic designer and comes as a result of months of work with all stakeholders on re-framing our vision statement and school Bible verse. We are really pleased with the result. In a recent survey of our children's views our new vision was universally seen as an accurate depiction of what our school stands for.

Our vision:

At All Saints' we are 'Children of God'.

We wear our crowns with pride.

Together, we are Included, Involved and Inspired

We are all INCLUDED INDIVIDUALS but here at All Saints' we belong- we have an identity. We worship God together, we are family, we celebrate our Inclusivity and are respectful of our differences.

We are INVOLVED and INDEPENDENT in our learning, we have a purpose. We aim to be the best that we can be. We always work hard, try our best, ask questions and wonder.

We are INSPIRED and IMAGINIATIVE. We want to be life-long learners and successful in all that we do. We have great ideas and imagine a better future that we know we can work towards. We are inspired and want to inspire others too to make a difference in this world.

Our Bible verse

²⁴ Do you not know that in a race all the runners run, but only one gets the prize? Run in such a way as to get the prize. ²⁵ Everyone who competes in the games goes into strict training. They do it to get a crown that will not last; but we do it to get a crown that will last forever. ²⁶ So I run with purpose in every step.

To celebrate our new vision statement, this newsletter will focus on activities which have included, involved and inspired all of our children.

Included

Many of our families from Eastern Europe celebrate Kings' Day or Epiphany as a very special occasion. As we know that it is very important to ensure children of all countries, faiths and world views feel accepted and included, we enjoy sharing this celebration with a special service at All Saints' church in January where we wore crowns that we had made over the Christmas period, thought about the journey of the kings and considered what wearing a crown made us feel like. We explored the how we could be inspired by understanding that we are all children of God and the confidence that this should give us as we launched our new vision. We considered what wearing a "crown that will last forever" might mean.

Involved

We are always involved in our learning, but Book Week, at the end of February, gave us a chance to think about non-fiction books, meet an author, visit the travelling book fair, make cakes on the theme of non-fiction books, make information posters and, of course, dress up as the subject of a non-fiction book. Everybody shared their love and appreciation of books and it was a wonderful time!

Inspired

Our Reception children were really inspired by their learning around the theme Goldilocks and the Three bears. So, when they found out about polar bears (cousins of the Three Bears) their inspiration transferred to their art work, which I am sure that you will agree was really impressive for four and five year old children!

Inspiring Scientists of the Future

The whole school took part in Science Week in March. There were many activities and events on offer during the week included science workshops where the children could “Meet the Vet” and use electronic microscopes or experiment with surface tension or air resistance. Children made science posters on the theme of journeys and many presented science projects to their classes. There were some excellent and inspirational pieces of work.

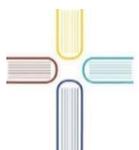

Years 3 and 4 our inspiring “Technicolor Dreamcoat” performers!

A lot of hard work went into preparing, rehearsing and performing Joseph and His Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat. We were very aware that this production was written for adults to perform and it was an ambitious project but it was pulled off with style and imagination. Great singing, dancing and some budding actors and actresses made the show a hit. Congratulations to the children who performed, the teachers who directed and organised and out TAs and volunteers who put in so much effort. Well done indeed!

It is very difficult to summarise a term's worth of inspirational activities, and there is so much more that could have been reported on- this is just a very small selection of a busy and productive term. If you would like to know more about All Saints' and all that we have done, please visit our website and look at the newsletters for the last term for much more information, photographs and messages.
