

"The kingdom of heaven is like a mustard seed, which a man took and planted in his field. Though it is the smallest of all seeds, yet when it grows, it is the largest of garden plants and becomes a tree, so that the birds come and perch in its branches"

Junior Road Safety officers

This year, the Junior Road Safety Officers have created a competition to help inspire children to think about how to stay well seen in the dark and how to cross the road safely. They have also have hosted an assembly for the whole school, focusing on the importance of 'No need to speed' for this year's Brake charity. The assembly was held via Google hangouts to all of the classes; getting each class to become interactive with the PowerPoint and then asking them to create their own poster to help remind parents and people in the community to slow down while driving. We have learnt that we must all help each other to become better road users and show the next generations the importance of road safety.

We are so proud to announce, that for the third year running, we have achieved the Gold certificate awarded by Suffolk Highways. The High Sheriff of Suffolk, Mr Creasy, kindly accepted an invitation to present the Junior Road Safety group with their award. He was very interested in our work and the children enjoyed learning about his role in Suffolk too.

Fire Safety Wardens

The fire wardens did a fire safety activity with classes, first they explained to Oak class what their job as fire wardens entails: fire drills, emergency light testing, lockdown drills, fire drills as well as safety talks. Today's assembly was Bubble Escape. We put the children into groups and they had to crawl along a sheet whilst the fire wardens blew bubbles, this was to give the same effect as smoke. They then had to get as low as they could and get from one side of the room to the other without letting the bubbles touch them. We told the children that if they were ever in a building that was on fire (very, very unlikely) and there was lots of smoke they needed to get down as low as they can because smoke rises. Oak Class did really well and enjoyed the lesson. We did Willow and Cherry over the next couple of weeks and we will do Ash class next week. Quote of the day "Stay low, get go" Which one of the Oak Class children came up with.

Ethos group

Each half term they promote a value through activities around our school prayer tree. This year they have encouraged members of the school community to decorate world pictures and think about how they can make a difference in the world. As a school children and staff have made thankful bead strings. Each bead on the string was threaded as a reminder for something they were thankful for. At Christmas they worked with the wider community creating stars for the church. Some of these were sent to the decorate St Andrews church in the village over the Christmas period. The whole school helped to create a poppy wreath for remembrance which was placed at the base of our school cross. We have also organised a collection for the Children in Need appeal and the Royal British Legion Poppy appeal. The school collected £145 which was shared between the two charities.

After hearing the sad news of the death of Prince Philip, ethos group wrote a prayer to send to the Queen to let her know we were thinking of her and her husband.
